I AM Lanello, and I have prepared today to give you my help so that you are better protected from the manifestations of the illusion, whatever they are.

The best protection is your constant readiness to face them with all your calmness, always expecting even the most unexpected. Vigilance of the Consciousness – that is what you need to work off. You should also always be ready to act in the best way for the moment according to the Lord's point of view, which you will only be able to do when you have managed to maintain your Consciousness at the highest possible level accessible to you.

Being in high spirits is the next thing you also need to maintain constantly. And that is possible when you strengthen your Faith in the infallibility of the Divine Providence in all situations you find yourself in, regardless of the whisperings of your illusory part.

For example, you go out of your home, and you remember that you have forgotten something important that you will need during the day, for instance, the wallet with the money or the car keys. You have an important meeting, and you lack the time to go back if you want to be on time. And you realise that it will hardly be possible anymore. You stay calm, thank God, and return home. And when you finally leave, you will see after a while that one block further along your route there has been an accident that happened at exactly the same time when you would be passing if you had gone 'on time'. Well, you just need to thank once again joyfully.

Beloved, the same thing applies to every other circumstance in your life. Each situation is the best for you for the moment as long as you are following the Path to God, even if, according to others, your affairs are 'obviously' not quite right. Like in our example, when you are late for an important meeting, and you miss it. Yes, you will possibly miss the meeting, but you will bypass something much more dangerous.

The nuance here, as in any other situation you may find yourself in, is to remain calm and, most of all, to thank the Lord in advance. But not to thank anyhow and as something that is to be done out of duty, but to thank Him with all your heart, in Joy, and to send Him your Divine Love!

You will be doing this quite naturally if you always keep in your Consciousness the thought of the help you receive from the Beings of Light. Help that is aimed mainly at preserving your Souls and at the transformation of your negative karma into Light. Help that sometimes causes suffering, but only to your ego – suffering that is entirely illusory.

Let us go back to our example again. Even without a traffic accident, the delay for the meeting could prevent you, for instance, from signing a contract for work which would create negative karma for you, as this work would be contrary to the Divine Commandments and Laws, even though you lack the understanding about that at the moment. Moreover, it is possible that the person who you were late to meet and whose expectations and possible future joint work you have failed may have done the same to you in a previous incarnation, and now it is time to work off the karma between both of you.

A lot of good results can be achieved with a seemingly unfavourable situation, results that you are unlikely to know exactly while you are in the centre of the events.

Your Faith in God and the Joyful acceptance of everything that happens will protect you along the Path and help you progress forward.

I AM Lanello
